About Peachland

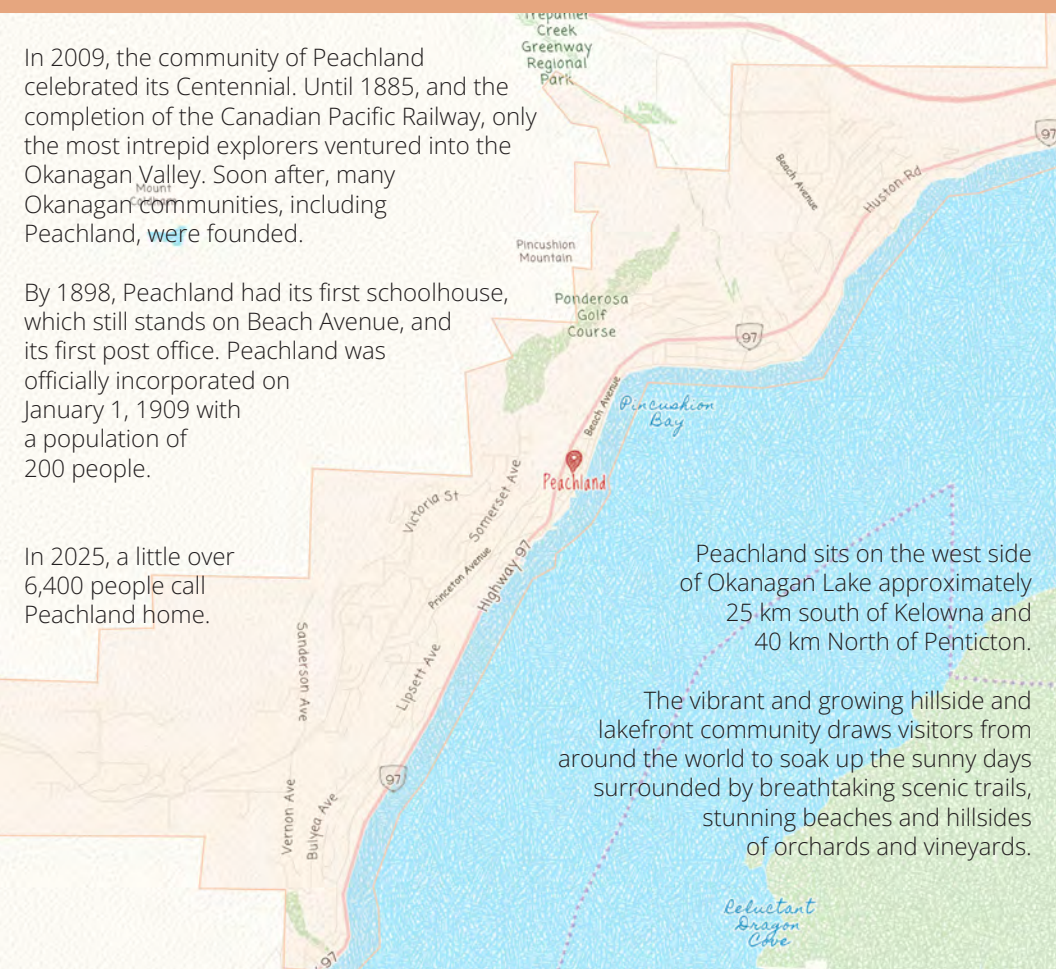

In 2009, the community of Peachland celebrated its Centennial. Until 1885, and the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway, only the most intrepid explorers ventured into the Okanagan Valley. Soon after, many Okanagan communities, including Peachland, were founded.

By 1898, Peachland had its first schoolhouse, which still stands on Beach Avenue, and its first post office. Peachland was officially incorporated on January 1, 1909 with a population of 200 people.

In 2025, a little over 6,400 people call Peachland home.

Peachland sits on the west side of Okanagan Lake approximately 25 km south of Kelowna and 40 km North of Penticton.

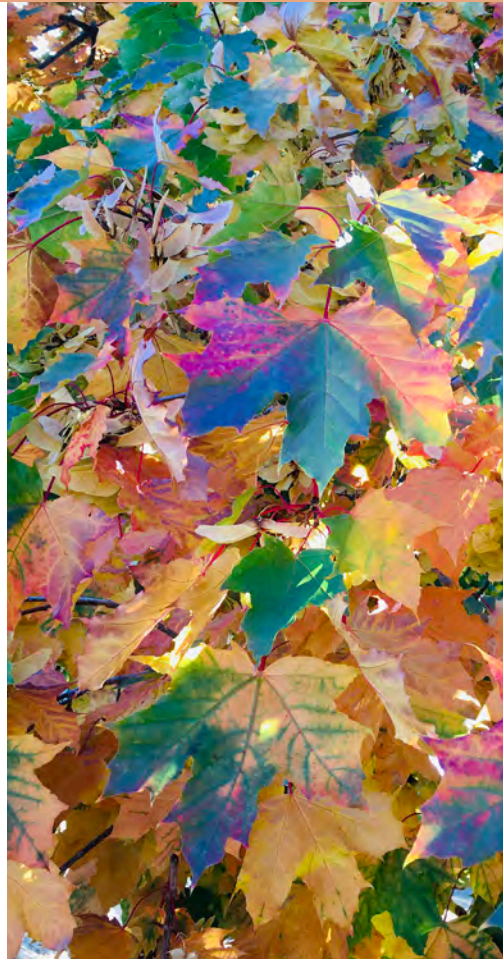

The vibrant and growing hillside and lakefront community draws visitors from around the world to soak up the sunny days surrounded by breathtaking scenic trails, stunning beaches and hillsides of orchards and vineyards.

Water Safety

Boating Etiquette

Be prepared

Know the safety rules for your craft; inform your guests, wear lifejackets, keep safety gear on board.

Watch your wake

Avoid creating obtrusive waves near other boats, swimmers, or the shoreline. Keep the big wakes to the middle of the lake.

Keep it slow

Slow down when using the boat launch or approaching day mooring docks or public swimming areas.

Don't drive impaired

It's illegal, number one, and second, it is ALWAYS unsafe. Just don't do it.

A Note About Beach Water Quality

Lake water is not pristine, and beach water quality can fluctuate due to numerous factors including lake currents, runoff and creek outflow, changing environmental factors, and waterfowl and animal waste. Swimmer's itch parasites and algae blooms are part of the ecosystem. Be prepared and learn more about local beach water quality at interiorhealth.ca.

Help keep Okanagan Lake free of invasive mussels!

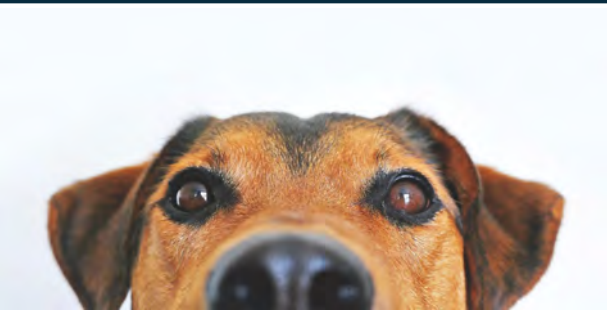

They hitchhike on any surface. All water recreation equipment should be checked, including boats, trailers, kayaks, paddleboards and fishing gear.

Legend has it that ogopogo, known locally as Ogoopogo, Okanagan Lake's fabled sea serpent, makes its home in a cave beneath Squally Point, located at the sharp bend on the east side of the Lake, approximately 1 kilometre south of Rattlesnake Island and at the mid-point of Okanagan Lake. A small cautionary marker sits on the main point.
